

Chouinard Bros Shares Tips on Detecting Damage on the Roof

Ontario, October XX, 2012: Chouinard Bros, the most trusted roofing repair company in Toronto with 40 years of experience shared useful and effective tips for customers on detecting damage on the roof. An early detection not only helps saving precious time and money but also plays an instrumental role in preventing irreparable damage to roofs.

The roof is the most crucial part of a house that acts as a protective cover withstanding the onslaught of natural calamities like wind, rain, snow and ice, hail, fire etc. The endurance power of a roofing system is put to test when exposed to such hazardous weather conditions apart from the natural wear and tear owing to the age of the roof.

According to Michelle Chouinard, Owner at Chouinard Brothers, “A little bit of caution and foresight is what is needed to identify the signs that indicate an impending decay that is gnawing at the very foundation of your roofing system. It is advisable not to procrastinate but take necessary corrective measures immediately after spotting the initial signs of damage.

“The more you delay, the damage is more serious and the better it is for counterfeit roofing companies who exploit the vulnerable situation of the customers and extort more money. Being the most trustworthy roofing repair firm in Toronto, it is our responsibility to share our expertise with our customers and advise them so that they are alert right from the beginning.

Tips on detecting damage on the roof

So be extra cautious and proactively go for a routine inspection of your roofing system by a professional roofing contractor after a stipulated period of time. Chouinard Brothers have an expert team of service personnel who will inspect and counsel you and provide cost-effective remedies for all your problems
- A leakage in your ceiling can wreak havoc to your roof. Keep an eye for damp patches or holes in the ceiling created due to water seepage and presence of moisture.
- Climb atop the roof and check the shingles. If even a minor anomaly comes to your notice, consult a professional.
- Have a look at the downspout drains in the vicinity of your house. If you find mineral deposits concentrating around them, then that might be a premonition of a damaged roof.

A bit of alertness and precaution is all that is needed to detect initial signs of degeneration and subsequently turn the case over to a professional who will take care of the rest.
